ENDORSEMENTS

Whether you are interested in Scottish theology or not, you will not be able to put down this intriguing volume, for it touches on the big questions that face all humans, and in so doing, takes us into the heights and depths of Christian theology. I have found him to be judicious and fair; always relating theological truth to the world we live in.

Douglas F. Kelly
Professor of Theology Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Charlotte, North Carolina

Professor MacLeod's engaging style and elegance of expression is well known, and he has used his literary gifts to illuminate the theology of an extraordinary period of Scottish history. I simply cannot recommend this volume highly enough. It is a tour de force of perceptive scholarship.

Bruce Ritchie
Lecturer in Church History, Highland Theological College, Dingwall, Scotland

Not for over eighty years has there appeared a treatment as authoritative as this ... an outstanding contribution that presents a range of important Scottish theologians from Hamilton to Witherspoon in an appreciative but realistic light. This should be the standard for many years to come.

Robert Letham
Wales Evangelical School of Theology, Bridgend, Wales

This heart–warming and illuminative account of the debates and the personalities who contributed to the development of Presbyterianism in Scotland will inform and inspire those who long for the growth and health of the Reformed faith across the world.

Stafford Carson
Principal and Professor of Ministry, Union Theological College, Belfast, Northern Ireland
