DESCRIPTION

It's good to be prepared for hard questions. And if you're a Christian, hard questions are going to come. The Bible says we should be prepared to give an account of our faith, and so Stephen Nichols has written this short book to help you defend what you believe. Read, and make sure you're ready.

AUTHOR

Stephen J. Nichols is Senior Scholar and ambassador for Lancaster Bible College in Lancaster, Pennsylvania and author of 'Track: A Student's Guide to Apologetics'.

ENDORSEMENTS

At last! An apologetics book that is practical rather than academic, biblical rather than philosophical, entertaining rather than boring, short rather than long, and, most importantly, Christ–centered rather than Christless. This engaging and enjoyable book will not only defend your faith but help you defend and share the faith with others.

David Murray
Senior Pastor, First Byron CRC, Byron Center, Michigan and author of 'The StoryChanger' and 'Jesus on Every Page'

... every Christian needs to defend what he or she believes about God, about Jesus. And every Christian needs to know how best to do it. And here, in this short primer, Nichols has given you a gem. It might even change your life. So be prepared to be changed, challenged, convicted, and encouraged.

Derek W. H. Thomas
Teaching Fellow, Ligonier Ministries; Retired Senior Minister, First Presbyterian Church (ARP), Columbia, South Carolina

This little book on apologetics from my friend Stephen Nichols is packed full of big, life–altering truths that will equip you to both find and give answers to the hard questions of faith and life.
