DESCRIPTION

The Greatest Sermon Ever Preached: John Maclaurin's Masterpiece on the Cross of Christ

Discover why theologians have hailed John Maclaurin's "Glorying in the Cross of Christ" as the greatest single sermon in the English language. This eighteenth-century Scottish masterpiece transforms the familiar story of the cross into fresh, compelling insights that reveal God's infinite justice, mercy, and wisdom in perfect harmony.

Rather than following conventional structure, Maclaurin's passionate discourse flows with fervent conviction, demonstrating how Christ's suffering displays divine glory more brilliantly than all creation's wonders. Called "a noble monument of evangelical teaching," this timeless sermon continues to captivate pastors, theologians, and serious students of Scripture with its unmatched eloquence and spiritual depth.

This newly typeset edition includes:

- A memoir of the author
- A modern introduction by pastor and scholar, Nick Batzig
- A brief outline and analysis of the sermon

AUTHOR

John Maclaurin (1693-1754) was a Scottish Presbyterian minister born in Argyllshire. A contemporary of Jonathan Edwards and Thomas Boston, he was part of the Evangelical wing of the Church of Scotland. He served parishes at Luss and Glasgow, championing religious revival, social reform, and transatlantic evangelical correspondence. He was known for his piety, scholarship, and zealous advocacy for vital Christianity.

ENDORSEMENTS

A noble monument of rich doctrinal and evangelical teaching such as the Scottish pulpit has never surpassed.

John MacLeod
Principal, Free Church College, Edinburgh

In a world so easily captivated by lesser glories, Maclaurin helps us behold the matchless glory of Christ crucified. This sermon is a gift to the church.

John W. Tweeddale
Vice President of Academics and Professor of Theology, Reformation Bible College, Sanford, Florida

There is probably no single sermon in the English lan-guage which has acquired a higher place in the esteem of sound theologians and evangelical Christians than that which is here offered. Not only is it happy in its style, but its subject is the very heart and life of the gospel system.

James W. Alexander (1804–1859)
Pastor, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York

The greatest sermon ever preached.

Robert S. Candlish (1806–1873)
Principal, New College, Edinburgh
