ENDORSEMENTS

Dr Johnson's expositions help bring John's message home to us. His commentary has several evident strengths. The words of John are not only explained, but illustrated and applied. The structure of each chapter is clear and the style accessible. The book is also enriched by quotations from other expositors.

David Campbell, Evangelical Times

With so many commentaries on the market today, anyone entering this field with a new publication must add something a little special. In this commentary on the three letters of John, Terry Johnson does just that. It is succinct, straightforward, relevant, encouraging and theological.

Brian H. Edwards, Evangelicals Now

Terry L. Johnson is a sober-minded careful expositor of the Word of God, but he is no dry academician. He carefully examines each passage in its context and seeks to understand both its meaning and its application to life.

Roland S. Barnes
Senior Pastor, Trinity Presbyterian Church, Statesboro, Georgia

Terry Johnson loves the Bible. He also loves speaking directly, fearlessly and with great clarity. This excellent commentary on the Epistles of John demonstrates this.
