DESCRIPTION

God's people had been in slavery in Egypt for hundreds of years. But God had promised their ancestors that the people of Israel would have their own land someday. So, they cried out to God and he heard them and rescued them. He used a shepherd and his brother to lead a nation of slaves in opposition to the most powerful ruler of the world's most powerful kingdom.

ENDORSEMENTS

Why Did the Exodus Happen? is not just the normal telling of the story of Moses, Pharaoh and the ten plagues. The author has organized the chapters by attributes of God (ie: sovereign, with us, all–powerful, holy). I'm thrilled to have a resource that goes so much deeper than the typical surface level teachings. Scripture quoted throughout is from both old and new testaments, helping my kids continue to grow in their understanding of how all is connected and pointing to Christ.

I just got done speaking at the MN Homeschool Mom Retreat about three things you should do to raise your children in the ways of the Lord and each of these books cover each of the points I made.

1. Exodus: Teach your children who God is. He is the faithful one who delivers His people. You can't trust someone you don't know and if your want your children to trust in the Lord then they have to know who he is. He is revealed throughout the story of the Exodus.

2. Moses: Share your testimony. Through Moses' story we see how God prepared him to participate in His story. Use your story to show your kids that God is still relevant and active today. I think the way Who Was Moses was written can help others develop their personal testimony and see how God can use all things.

3. Tabernacle: Always point to Jesus. Ultimately Moses couldn't save the people. The judges and kings couldn't save the people. Not even the law could save the people in the way they really needed, in the ways we really need saving. Only the perfect, spotless, lamb of God could do that. He is the Way! He cleared the path where no veil separates us from God.

In my opinion these books are a must own! Don't put them on your wish list…put them in your cart and hit "purchase" because they are worth it!
