AUTHOR

Tim Chester lectures in historical theology and spiritual formation with Crosslands Training and the author of over 40 books. He has a PhD in theology, PgDip in history and a Masters in Christian Spirituality. He is married to Helen and has two adult daughters.

ENDORSEMENTS

Is the gospel about the coming of the kingdom of God and its implications for social justice in this world? Or does it centre on the cross, dealing only with personal salvation and the need for forgiveness? ... Chester employs clear exegesis of biblical passages to help build his case, particularly from Mark's Gospel. He writes in a lively style and has produced a helpful little book. It will be particularly useful for young believers and those just beginning as preachers. Its brevity will enhance its appeal. I have pleasure in commending it.

Evangelical Times

This book is an absolute gift for those who want a holistic discipleship that 'teaches them to obey everything I have commanded you.' (Matthew 28:20)

Daniel Montgomery
Founder and CEO of Leadership Reality and author of 'Leadership Mosaic' and 'How to be Present in an Absent World'

...skilfully integrates and weaves together the two dimensions of Cross and Kingdom towards a healthy, scriptural understanding of Christ's accomplishment.

Iver Martin
