Building Resilience in the Spiritual Battle from 2 Timothy

AUTHOR

John Benton is Director of Pastoral Support for The Pastors' Academy at London Seminary. John & his wife Ann have written a number of books and at present are involved in a church planting venture. They are often asked to speak at Christian conferences.

ENDORSEMENTS

John combines careful study of 2 Timothy with the wisdom of years of experience on the frontline of church ministry. This is an incredibly helpful, realistic and faith–boosting read for all in ministry, whether you have been soldiering on for many years or are just starting out.

Bart Erlebach
Associate Vicar, Emmanuel, Tolworth, UK

Paul wrote to a young, scared and struggling Timothy, who sometimes found the ministry really hard. I am a 21st century Timothy, and therefore am so thankful to John for pointing me to the gold that's in God's word for weak pastors like me. If you're a Timothy too, read this book. And if you know any Timothys, give them this book. May God use this resource to help young (and old) pastors everywhere find the much needed resilience that this book is all about."

Rhodri Brady
Pastor, Alfred Place Baptist Church, Aberystwyth, Wales

I am so grateful, as one in the early days of ministry, that John has put in black and white sound and earthy wisdom from God's word on how to joyfully persevere in ministry for the long term. I can only thank him for writing it and encourage others in ministry to read it!

Paul Brennan
Pastor, The Tron at Kelvingrove, Glasgow, UK

'Resilient' is full of honest realism, written to Pastors who have 'signed up for hardship and sacrifice'. Using the timeless truths of 2 Timothy, John shows how it is possible to be resilient, to persevere in ministry, though the challenges and pressures are huge. This book will be of great help to church leaders, to all who teach God's word and pastor His people and to those who support those who do so.

Julia Jones
Director of Women's Courses, London Seminary, UK
