ENDORSEMENTS

In his usual eloquent and articulate style, Dr Lee Gatiss illuminates the wisdom of the Protestant Reformers and the continuing truth of Almighty God's gospel of grace.... compels the reader to stand firm in the foundation of faith which was courageously taught by men and women of the 16th century.

Julian Dobbs
Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of the Living Word in North America

... historically informed, accessibly readable, and relevantly applied. A great service for the church and beyond.

Adriaan Neele
Research scholar, associate editor and director of the Jonathan Edwards Center, Yale University

Lee shows not only how these Reformers faced their own contexts of darkness but also applies the regained principles to our modern contexts ... Overall Lee takes us, as the Reformers did, back to God's authority as described in the Scriptures.

Andy Lines
Missionary Bishop for Europe, Anglican Church in North America

In a winsome, yet honest and penetrating examination of some of its leading characters, Lee Gatiss shows how the Reformation sheds light on some of today's vexing theological, ethical, and ecclesiastical questions. This insightful and at times provocative volume is further proof that the Reformation cannot be revisited too often, and sight of its lasting legacy must not be lost in successive generations.

Iver Martin
Principal, Edinburgh Theological Seminary, Edinburgh, Scotland
