DESCRIPTION

On an afternoon 2,000 years ago, a couple of friends were walking from Jerusalem to Emmaus. A very ordinary–looking man joined them and asked what they were talking about. This was a strange question as one event had dominated most people's conversations that weekend: the execution of Jesus of Nazareth. However, the ordinary–looking man was not as clueless as they first thought… "beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself". You see, their fellow–traveller wasn't just a random guy – he was Jesus himself. This book will take us into that conversation Jesus had with Cleopas and his friend and look at thirty different places in the Bible where you can find a prophecy about Jesus.

ENDORSEMENTS

… there is no better way to fuel a passion for the Kingdom, than to have a clear grasp of God's faithfulness in keeping his promises. This beautifully designed book outlines thirty of God's promises, joining each of them up with their Gospel fulfilment in Christ. A marvellous resource for children, parents, and Bible teachers.

This book is an excellent way to introduce young people to the topic of prophecy in Scripture. In clear, organized, and easy to understand explanations, Paul Reynolds points out how Scripture prepared the world for Christ's coming and then recorded Christ's fulfillment of those predictions. This book offers helpful insight for our modern lives with practical applications from Scripture and is ideal for personal or family devotions or a Sunday school setting.
