Redeeming Warriors

Veteran Suicide, Grieving, and the Fight for Faith

Joshua D. Holler

RELEASE DATE 06 NOVEMBER 2020

RELATED TITLES

DESCRIPTION

MARKETING POINTS

Written by veteran and pastor

Tells stories of veterans who have committed suicide

Redemption through relationship with God

AUTHOR

Joshua is a Marine Corps veteran and deployed to Iraq twice between 2007–2009 with 1st Battalion 7th Marine Regiment. He is a pastor at First Baptist Church of Duncan in Duncan, Oklahoma, where he lives with his wife and children.

ENDORSEMENTS

Whether you are a soldier or a civilian you will be helped by this book. Overall, it broadens and deepens your perspective. You will better understand the challenges and sorrows of your veteran neighbors, and your friends in the service. You will be better equipped to serve, or better equipped to encourage those who serve. The book is a thoroughly enjoyable read and the author speaks with honesty and humility, especially about the darker side of military life. It's worth your time. This book will lead you to hope in God as a veteran, and love your neighbor better, if you're a civilian.

Bibles.net

Josh doesn't stop with the person, but takes the reader on a journey of hope, that employs the PTSD victim's family, friends, pastors, chaplains, mental health professionals, the Holy Spirit and Scripture. Josh's writings reinforce the notion that it does take a village to encourage, energize and experience the joy of a person's recovery from the effects of trauma.

Mike Higgins
Retired US ARMY Chaplain Colonel with experience in hospitals, FORSCOM, and the Pentagon Pastor, South City Church (PCA), St Louis, Missouri

... offers invaluable insights for Christians concerned with understanding and assisting veterans struggling with grief and loss of identity.

Mark R. Amstutz
Professor Emeritus, Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois CDR, U.S. Naval Reserve (r)

... an important resource for greater understanding and empathy. May it equip many to minister with compassion to those at risk and to walk alongside those who have suffered loss.

Albert Y. Hsu
Author of 'Grieving a Suicide: A Loved One's Search for Comfort, Answers, and Hope'

TECHNICAL DETAILS

6611

ISBN 9781527106611
BISAC REL012010
PRICE £7.99 $9.99