AUTHOR

Nick Needham is a Church History lecturer at Highland Theological College in Dingwall. Previous to this, he taught Systematic Theology at the Scottish Baptist College in Glasgow. From 2004 to 2021, he was the minister of Inverness Reformed Baptist church. He is author of the highly collectable 2,000 Years of Christ's Power series.

ENDORSEMENTS

These volumes should be compulsory reading, first for pastors and elders called to teach and defend the faith, but also for Christians in general who desire to deepen their knowledge of the Saviour's power throughout the church's history.

Ian Hamilton
President, Westminster Seminary UK; author, 'The Faith-Shaped Life'

As always, Needham remains attentive to the big picture, yet he also manages to maintain a grasp of the lesser known details throughout. Especially notable is Needham's inclusion of the Eastern and Russian Orthodox Church. Highly recommended.

Jonathan Master
President, Greenville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Greenville, South Carolina

As he assesses the European Enlightenment, evangelical revivals ... and developments within Roman Catholicism and Eastern Orthodoxy from his consistently Reformed perspective, Needham provides illuminating reading for those who share that perspective, but perhaps even more for those who do not.

Mark A. Noll
Author of 'America's Book: The Rise and Decline of a Bible Civilization, 1794–1911'

... helpfully delineates the variegated state of professing Christendom in this crucial era with magisterial vim and verve. Highly recommended!

Michael A. G. Haykin
Professor of Church History and Biblical Spirituality, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky
