Is God for Real?

Emma Nichols, Jeriah D. Shank, and Teresa Hemmings

RELEASE DATE 14 NOVEMBER 2023

RELATED TITLES

DESCRIPTION

A story–based introduction to apologetics answers some big questions, and encourages kids to keep asking them.
10–year–old Samantha and her brother, Joshua, have some big questions about God, and their parents are ready to help them explore the answers. Join them as they find out what the Bible has to say, and what it means for their lives. Each chapter in this book addresses a big question, like 'Who is God?' or 'Why does God let bad things happen?'. The conversation between parents and children makes the explanation easy to read, and the chapter ends with a passage of Scripture to read, a verse or two to memorize and a few discussion questions.

MARKETING POINTS

Introduction to apologetics

For 8–11–year–olds

Scripture passage, memory verse and questions with each chapter

AUTHOR

Emma Nichols serves year–round at a Christian Camp. She loves to create art that tells a story.

Jeriah Shank is a pastor, apologist, and theologian. He lives in Iowa with his wife and two daughters.

Teresa Hemmings is a wife, mom, and homemaker in Iowa with an affinity for words and coffee.

ENDORSEMENTS

Jeriah and Teresa, with the help of some beautiful illustrations from Emma, help answer nine of the basic questions that many children have. The format is accessible, the Scripture is taught, and room is left for further discussion. What more could you want?

David Robertson
Minister, Scots Kirk, Newcastle, Australia

The most important questions we can ask are the ones that challenge our faith. This book asks those questions and sketches biblically orthodox answers, with suggested further readings to provide still fuller answers. I highly recommend this book.

Bill Dembski
Author of many books on Intelligent Design

... I am convinced that we are waiting too long to begin teaching apologetics (knowing and defending Christian beliefs) to our children. This book is the best place to begin for addressing this urgent need, especially to parents who aren't sure where to begin.

Jay Lucas
Senior Pastor, Grace Community Church, Washington Courthouse, Ohio; author, 'Ask Them Why'

... a good story, beautifully illustrated, with strong Christian teaching, well–rooted in Scripture, and rarest of all, it surveys a handful of apologetics topics ... I trust many homes will be blessed by it.

John D. Ferrer
Equal Rights Institute and Norman Geisler International Ministries

TECHNICAL DETAILS

HARDBACK 240 X 170
72 Pages
Reading Age: 8–11

ISBN 9781527110175
BISAC JNF049130
PRICE £12.99 $16.99