AUTHOR

Richard P. Belcher, Jr. is the John D. and Frances M. Gwin Professor of Old Testament and the Academic Dean at Reformed Theological Seminary Atlanta. He is the author of 'The Messiah and the Psalms', as well as commentaries on Genesis, Job and Ecclesiastes and has a decade of pastoral experience.

ENDORSEMENTS

Well–researched and concisely written ... will be the first resource I recommend to anyone wanting to learn more about covenant theology.

John W. Tweeddale
Vice President of Academics and Professor of Theology, Reformation Bible College, Sanford, Florida

An outstanding introduction to covenant theology ... clear, concise, and accessible. Belcher's academic experience combined with his pastoral sensitivity are evident throughout.

Miles V. Van Pelt
Professor of Old Testament and Biblical Languages, Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson, Mississippi

Belcher expertly weaves together a portrait of the biblical–theological landscape of how God has covenanted with his people into an amazingly accessible little book. This work should be a first port of call for those new to covenant theology. Belcher's user–friendly style and irenic tone lead us into more depth than we might expect from a book so easy to read.

Harrison Perkins
Pastor, Oakland Hills Community Church (OPC), Farmington Hills, Michigan; author, 'Righteous by Design: Covenantal Merit and Adam's Original Integrity'

This short book is a superb introduction to covenant theology. For anyone seeking to understand how God's covenant promises run through all the pages of Scripture, and for anyone seeking to marvel anew at how Christ fulfils them all, this book is the first place to go.

Thomas Davis
Minister, Carloway Free Church, Isle of Lewis, Scotland; Principal Designate of Edinburgh Theological Seminary
