DESCRIPTION

An exciting collection of stories about Scottish Christians who did great things for God

Samuel Rutherford: When Samuel Rutherford picked up his pen he changed lives, but where his real power and passion was felt was in the letters that his warm pastor's heart wrote to the people of his parish.

Robert Moffat: Robert used the skills he had learned growing up in a Scottish village to translate the Bible into Tswana and to share God's love with Africa.

David Livingstone: Inspired by the gospel's call to serve others, Livingstone pursued a path of missionary work and exploration, driven by a deep conviction to share the love of Christ with those in distant lands.

Robert Murray McCheyne: An emotional, passionate preacher for Christ – a young man who longed to bring others to the Saviour who had loved him and died for him.

Eric Liddell: Ready to race at the Olympics, Eric Liddell was faced with a difficult decision. Would he pursue his own glory or God's glory?

AUTHOR

John Keddie is a writer and retired Christian minister. His previous works include a highly regarded centenary history of Scottish Athletics. His connection to Eric Liddell comes through an advisory position that he held for the movie Chariots of Fire.

Irene Howat is an award–winning author and poet who lives in Scotland.

Vance Christie is a pastor and author specialising in missionary biographies.

Catherine MacKenzie comes from Scotland and has written several biographies for young teens in the Trailblazers series as well as other titles for younger children. She is Editor for Christian Focus' children's imprint, CF4Kids.
