DESCRIPTION

Break Free from the Illusion of Independence

In a culture obsessed with self-reliance, Pierce Taylor Hibbs reveals a profound truth: our greatest strength lies in learning to lean. Our Hope Is in Help exposes autonomy as the dangerous ghost haunting modern life—the stubborn belief that we can "go it alone."

Through biblical narratives and personal insights, Hibbs unveils autonomy's destructive path while pointing to Jesus Christ, who shows us true strength through complete dependence on the Father. With poetic wisdom and pastoral warmth, this book challenges readers to embrace what we were created for: beautiful dependence on God and each other.

Key Features:

- Biblical analysis of autonomy through Abraham, Moses, and David's stories
- Practical guidance for asking for help in thoughts, words, and actions
- Christ-centered approach to defeating self-reliance
- Perfect for small groups and personal study

AUTHOR

Pierce Taylor Hibbs (MAR, ThM, Westminster Theological Seminary) serves as Senior Writer and Communication Specialist at Westminster Theological Seminary. He's the author of more than 20 books, including the Illumination Award–winning titles 'Struck Down but Not Destroyed', 'The Book of Giving', 'The Great Lie', and 'One with God'. ENDORSEMENTS

... as Hibbs unmasks the many faces of autonomy in our hearts and lives, he deftly and wisely unmasks the plentiful ways in which the whole Christ is our help, our peace, and our life.

Mark A. Garcia
Pastor, Immanuel Orthodox Presbyterian Church & President and Lecturer in Scripture and Theology, Greystone Theological Institute, Coraopolis, Pennsylvania

... God created us not to be radically autonomous but to be trustingly dependent—dependent upon him and the grace he loves to grant to us. If you are as prone to self-reliance as I am, if you have such a deep hunger for autonomy and such trouble trusting, you will benefit from reading this book.

Tim Challies
Author, 'Seasons of Sorrow'

Autonomy, the sinful striving of human beings for independence that denies or otherwise rejects creaturely dependence on God as well as the need for others, is universal. 'Our Hope Is In Help' is written for a broad audience with a poetic flair throughout, an added attraction for many readers.

Richard Gaffin
Professor of Biblical and Systematic Theology, Emeritus, Westminster Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

This is a vital message for today's increasingly fragmented and autonomous world, presented in a brilliantly creative way. It deserves to be widely read and heeded.
