DESCRIPTION

An ordinary man in the hands of an extraordinary God.

Discover the inspiring true story of George Müller (1805–1898), a man who built orphan homes, shaped generations, and proved the power of prayer. From rebellious youth to global Christian leader, Müller trusted God alone for every need—never asking for financial support, yet never lacking.

This new edition features a fresh cover, bringing his timeless story to today's readers.

Inside, you'll find:

- The gripping transformation of a dishonest youth into a man of radiant faith
- The story behind Müller's famous orphan houses that cared for thousands
- His bold decision to depend solely on prayer for every need
- Powerful testimonies of answered prayer that challenged sceptics
- The spiritual principles that shaped a lifetime of impact

Rich in historical detail and spiritual insight, George Müller: Delighted in God is more than a biography—it is a stirring call to trust, pray, and live wholeheartedly for God.
