Pleased to Dwell

A Biblical Introduction to the Incarnation

Peter Mead

RELEASE DATE 20 JANUARY 2015

RELATED TITLES

MARKETING POINTS

Biblical introduction to Christmas

Travels through the Bible to consider the birth of Jesus

An invitation to ponder a God who was pleased to dwell with us!

AUTHOR

Peter Mead is director of Cor Deo, a mentored ministry training programme based in Chippenham, England. He is on the leadership team of a church plant and leads the Bible Teachers & Preachers Networks at the European Leadership Forum.

ENDORSEMENTS

What a really useful resource! As I read through it, I found that ideas for carol service talks just kept leaping off its pages.

Rico Tice
Evangelist; Co–founder of Christianity Explored Ministries

This book is perfect food for the heart for all of us who long for a richer understanding of the birth of The King!

Joseph M. Stowell
President, Cornerstone University, Grand Rapids, Michigan

Through a clear and accessible explanation of the profound miracle of the incarnation... An ideal introduction to a profound theme - and a great Christmas present!

Jonathan Lamb
Minister-at-large for Keswick Ministries, IFES Vice President, and former Director, Langham Preaching

This book is written with clarity and freshness and flows in a way that makes reading enjoyable as well as a blessing... I recommend it highly.

Stephen McQuoid
General Director of Gospel Literature Outreach, Motherwell, Scotland

TECHNICAL DETAILS

TRADE PAPERBACK
224 Pages

ISBN 9781781914267
BISAC REL006160
PRICE £7.99 $11.99