Frances Ridley Havergal: The Girl Who Loved Mountains

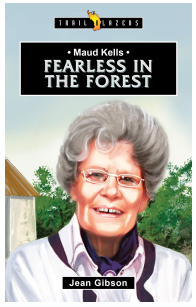

Lucille Travis

RELEASE DATE 20 NOVEMBER 2014

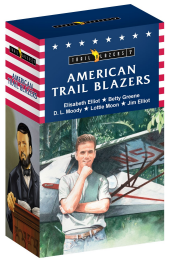

RELATED TITLES

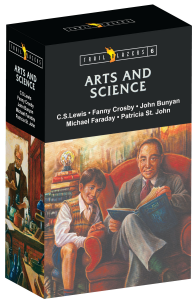

9781527105294
£5.99 $8.99

9781527105232
£24.99 $39.99

9781781916391
£24.99 $39.99

DESCRIPTION

As a little girl, Frances (Fanny) loved to climb trees, enjoy the countryside and to run about with her spaniel. The mountains of Switzerland inspired her and she loved hiking on the steep slopes. She became a hymn writer and singer, longing to share the love of her Saviour. Books flowed from her pen at a later stage, often beginning as bedtime stories for her nephews and nieces.

MARKETING POINTS

Famous hymn writer

Example of a young person's experience of the Saviour's love

Winsome wonder at God's creation

AUTHOR

Lucille Travis is the author of several children's books and delights in encouraging young writers. A former college lecturer, she has also been a storyteller in Awana clubs and has held children's writing workshops.

ENDORSEMENTS

TECHNICAL DETAILS

POCKET PAPERBACK
176 Pages
Reading Age: 9–14

ISBN 9781781915226
BISAC JNF049180
PRICE £5.99 $8.99