AUTHOR

Catherine House is an educational writer who specialises in writing books for African schools. She lived and worked in Kenya, Sudan, Eritrea and Zimbabwe before moving to her home near Oxford. Inspired by her two daughters, Catherine also writes books that explain how the Christian faith can make a difference in their lives and in the world they live in.

ENDORSEMENTS

"Taking ten inspirational figures from history and the present day, Catherine House tells their tales in a readable and accessible style, drawing the reader into the story, before challenging them to respond...motivating resource for exploring social and political action."

Faithworks

"Christian Focus has an extensive list of books for children and young people. This is one of them, and it would make a great gift for Christian youngsters: Ten inspiring accounts of people who have made a difference."
