ENDORSEMENTS

The great value of this work on worship is its rooting in Scripture, its powerful and sustained focus on the glorious person and work of Christ, and the demonstration of the relevance of worship to all of life... May the Lord be pleased to use this book in His worldwide church to recapture the heart and dynamic of a God-centered worship where God's redeemed creatures glory in His worthship and every sphere of life pulsates with worship.

Lifesong: Oliver Claassen

This month's "Book of the Month" has been written by a man known to Gilcomston South Church. Oliver Claassen and his wife, Helen attended Gilcomston in 1975 before moving on to a number of other mission opportunities in other countries. They have kept in regular contact with the church over the years and their most recent visit was in June 2008. He is now the senior pastor of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church, Cape Coral, Florida.

Although this is a small book, only 91 pages, it is packed with thought provoking insight from cover to cover and shouldn't be read in a hurry! It has five chapters comprehensively covering all areas and aspects of worship.
