The Dawkins Letters

Revised Edition - Challenging Atheist Myths

David Robertson

RELEASE DATE 20 NOVEMBER 2013

RELATED TITLES

DESCRIPTION

MARKETING POINTS

Ideal apologetic to give a non–Christian

Each chapter challenges an atheist myth

Response to Richard Dawkins

AUTHOR

David Robertson, author of 'The Dawkins Letters' and 'Magnificent Obsession', is a well-known pastor and apologist who is passionate about engaging culture with the message of Christ.

ENDORSEMENTS

The book does a particularly good job of point out the unending contradictions between what Dawkins wants to believe and what he must actually believe.

Tim Challies
Author, 'Seasons of Sorrow'

This book is a more than useful contribution to the 'Dawkins Debate.'

Christian Marketplace
Resourcing retailers and suppliers

Brief, brilliant and compelling... It is a remarkable apologetic for the Christian faith and an essential tool in winning the battle of ideas. I'd give it ten stars if I could!

Richard Morris, Wesley Owen

This book is a refreshing, excellent read... I wouldn't hesitate to pass this book on to a non-Christian, atheistically-persuaded friend.

The Evangelical Magazine
Published by Evangelical Movement of Wales

TECHNICAL DETAILS

POCKET PAPERBACK
160 Pages

ISBN 9781845505974
BISAC REL067030
PRICE £5.99 $8.99