"This is evangelical scholarship at its best."

CLC Review

"Here we have evangelical scholarship at its best. Throughout, the various authors emanate an infectious confidence in Christ, which is so essential to a bold Christian testimony in the church, the academy and society. Only an informed and Spirit-filled confidence can once again turn the world upside down!"

Tim J. R. Trumper
President of From His Fullness Ministries and Senior Pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

'An outstanding collection of papers on one of the most central and controversial themes of Christian doctrine. The contributors have demonstrated their masterly grasp of both the theological issues at stake and the scholarly tools needed to assess those issues for the present day. A first-class symposium.'

Gerald Bray
Research Professor, Beeson Divinity School at Samford University, Birmingham, Alabama

'In this diverse and extremely competent symposium scholars from the fields of New Testament studies, systematic and historical theology contribute to the answer. Each writes about a specific and significant issue in their discipline... this book demonstrates something of the positive contribution evangelicals have to make to the debate about Jesus Christ.'

Derek Tidball
Formerly Principal of London School of Theology
