ENDORSEMENTS

What a feast! This is a fresh, engaging and thought provoking retelling of God's story. There's lots of insight into Bible truths combined with timely application to our contemporary lives. By taking in the whole sweep of Bible narrative Glen's book brings into view and connects together parts of the story arc that can easily get missed. This Bible overview will renew your delight that God's wondrous story is your story and is good for the soul.

Andrew Baughen
Director of Soulful Enterprise and author of 'The Because Approach'

If you are one of those people who is prepared to sit down and give a bit of time to understanding someone else's perspective, then when it comes to getting a handle on the Christian story, this is just a great place to start. Glen Scrivener – the Australian Oxford–educated stand–up comedian is a unique communicator and here wonderfully he brings his profound gifts to bear, as he tells what Christians believe is the greatest story ever told. But be warned, I really don't think you can read this glorious helicopter ride over the Bible story and remain unchanged!

Rico Tice
Evangelist; Co–founder of Christianity Explored Ministries

Enjoy these twelve stepping stones and you are going to want to blow the dust off your Bible. More than that, you are going to be surprised how much you want to get to know the hero of the story himself!

Peter Mead
Director, Cor Deo; Author, 'Lost in Wonder: A Biblical Introduction to God's Great Marriage'

This short book is a brilliant overview of the whole Bible story, covering the major plot points without getting lost in the weeds. Ideal for non–believers and new believers, Glen's knack for avoiding insider jargon shines. Filled with fresh insight and vivid prose, there were moments I forgot I had encountered this epic story before.
