DESCRIPTION

This box contains six short volumes. Six people to meet. Each appeared on the pages of John's Gospel. Each met Jesus – the Nazarene, the Christ, the man who forever changed the world we live in. And each had a conversation with Jesus about something important to them. Through these conversations you can meet not only these six men and women, but this man who changed everything too.

MARKETING POINTS

Six–volume box set

Short books for non–Christians and new believers

Vignettes of characters from the Gospel of John

AUTHOR

David Helm is Pastor of Christ Church Chicago and Chairman of the board of the Charles Simeon Trust. He is also a council member for The Gospel Coalition.

ENDORSEMENTS

The writing is simple but by no means simplistic; the tone is warm but not sentimental; the gospel call is winsome but never lacking in challenge. I warmly recommend that you buy these books, read them for your own encouragement, and then consider which of the non–Christian people in your life you will give them to.

The church in western society has never had a greater need for books like this to give to inquirers who are open to considering what real Christianity looks like. These six short studies are gems of lucidity. Use them!

In an increasingly complex and, to some degree, daunting world Dave Helm is a sense–maker. So in each of the areas: Religion, Relationships, Suffering, Truth, Doubt and Hope, you'll find the echo of your questions and the timeless unpredictable wisdom and rebuke of the Galilean. My plea is that you can make time to engage with what couldn't be more important.
