MARKETING POINTS

2-part commentary on Luke

By esteemed biblical scholar

For laypeople

AUTHOR

Dale Ralph Davis was Minister in Residence, First Presbyterian Church, Columbia, South Carolina. Prior to that he was pastor of Woodland Presbyterian Church, Hattiesburg, Mississippi and Professor of Old Testament at Reformed Theological Seminary, Jackson, Mississippi.

ENDORSEMENTS

Davis not only informs your mind (helpful technical footnotes are included on the bottom of the pages); he feeds your soul, fills your heart, and moves you to praise and thank God for the one who came to seek and to save the lost (Luke 17:10).

Steve Jussely

Senior Pastor, Lakeland Presbyterian Church (PCA), Flowood, Mississippi and Former Adjunct Professor of Homiletics, Reformed Theological Seminary

Written with Dale Ralph Davis' usual clarity, humour and warmth, these volumes will not only serve as a sure guide to help readers understand Luke's Gospel but will strengthen them in their faith in the Jesus about whom Luke writes.

Peter Orr

Lecturer in New Testament, Moore Theological College, Sydney

... here is a scholar (he is a ninja in the original languages) and a convicted pastor and a winsome believer. In Dr. Davis' Luke exposition, your eye is drawn to authorial intent and your heart is drawn to the matchlessness of Christ.

Austin T. Duncan

Professor of Pastoral Ministries, Director of D.Min Studies, Director, The MacArthur Center for Expository Preaching, The Master's Seminary, Los Angeles, California

This pithy and well-informed exposition is a delight to dig through. It concisely and creatively opens up Luke's Gospel ... Most significantly, the character and brilliance of Jesus shine forth. Readers at all levels will deepen in their knowledge and devotion to him through the wisdom that abounds in these pages.

Robert W. Yarbrough

Professor of New Testament, Covenant Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri
