DESCRIPTION

What If Your Fears Feared Someone Greater?

Fear touches every area of life—from uncertainty and suffering to darkness, disease, and death. In The One Our Fears Dread, Dayton Hartman shows that the answer to fear is not found in greater control, but in beholding the power and authority of Jesus Christ.

Through engaging biblical teaching and practical encouragement, readers will:

- Discover Christ's victory over humanity's deepest fears.
- Grow in confidence amid life's uncertainties.
- See how the Gospels reveal Jesus' authority over chaos, evil, sickness, and death.
- Find lasting hope and courage in the presence of Christ.

When fear rises, look to the One every fear dreads.

ENDORSEMENTS

If you lie awake rehearsing everything that could go wrong, this book will not hand you easy comfort. It will hand you Christ. Turns out that's so much better.

Drew Hensley
Lead Pastor New City Church, Mount Pleasant, South Carolina; author, 'Invisible Grief'

... while Jesus truly is "meek and mild," when we're in pain, suffering under injustice, or just plain terrified, we need more than that. And that's what Dayton Hartman has helpfully given us ... a sovereign Jesus who walks on the waves, commands cancer, and raises the dead. I know your faith will be strengthened and inflamed as you read it!

J. D. Greear
Pastor, The Summit Church, Raleigh–Durham, North Carolina

Dayton reminds us that our hierarchy of fears must be reordered under the endless and unrivaled power of Christ. Everything we fear fears him! Enjoy these steel-toed boots of truth offered in this book. Put them on and walk by faith in Jesus—your conqueror, your champion, your friend.

J. A. Medders
Author, 'He Will: 9 Promises of Jesus to Renew Your Soul'; director of content and New Churches at Send Network

Hartman lays out beautifully Jesus's dominance and authority over those things that cause our fears and shows the beauty and peace of fearing Jesus instead.

Barnabas Piper
Author of 'The Pastor's Kid', 'Help My Unbelief', and 'The Curious Christian'
