Catechism questions brought to life

Introducing children to doctrine

Volume one of three

AUTHOR

Selah Helms is a pastor's wife, homeschooling mom of four, grandmother to four. She has a heart for women's discipleship and has been involved in counseling for forty years. Selah is also a history buff and teacher of Western Civilization from a Christian perspective and has written books on using stories from history to teach children doctrine from a reformed children's catechism.

Susan Kahler serves alongside her husband in their local church in Grapevine, Texas. Professionally, she began her career as an attorney, but, for the past several years, she has taught freelance home school classes in Government, Western Civilization, and U.S. History and Literature.

ENDORSEMENTS

As we were bringing up our children, my wife and I were always looking for resources to help us. I remember teaching through A Catechism for Boys and Girls, a basic adaptation of the Westminster Shorter Catechism. What a great supplement this work would have been for us!

Stuart Scott
Associate Professor of Biblical Counseling, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky
