AUTHOR

Robert I. Vasholz (1936-2026) was Professor of Old Testament at Covenant Theological Seminary in St Louis, Missouri. He retired in 2007, but continued to serve God's people through his teaching, preaching and publishing projects.

ENDORSEMENTS

"...very simply a collection of 'calls to worship' designed to encourage the congregation to turn to God and focus on him. There are different ideas for different events, from Easter to Baptism services, some uttered just by the pastor and those which require a response from the congregation"

"In the call to worship God calls us to give him praise, but the command is not onerous. It is an invitation to respond to God's revelation of himself and his grace. In offering this invitation God is both host and honoree, and God's people are both invited and compelled by his mercy to give him glory. God gives us the privilege of welcome into his presence that we might reciprocate with the gift of worship. Right perception of this gift exchange encourages the worship leader to speak the call to worship with the warmth of heart and openness of gesture that such an occasion of mutual blessing deserves."
