AUTHOR

Until he retired in 2012, John Woodhouse is the principal of Moore College, Sydney, Australia and lectured there in doctrine and Old Testament. As well as writing a commentary on 1 Samuel, he has written various articles based on the New and Old Testament.

ENDORSEMENTS

"This commentary by John Woodhouse is a rich source of biblical insight on the texts of Colossians and Philemon. This volume is a great resource for the pastor as he prepares to feed his flock, but it is equally helpful for students of the Bible who desire to understand better these magnificent letters. Maybe even more importantly, the text reflects the author's own love for the Savior. I can gladly commend it."

William F. Cook
Professor of New Testament Interpretation, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky

"Honest readers will be challenged by the gospel of God's gracious saving plan for the world, the place of the Lord Jesus within it, and how those who have been united with Christ are to live. May the God who is the Author of these two powerful letters use John's rich exposition to challenge and encourage us in the twenty-first century."

Peter O'Brien
Emeritus Faculty Member, Moore Theological College, Sydney
