Great Devotional material for family with a variety of ages. (My house: ages 2,6,8,10,14) I especially like it when God's character is focused on in relationship to a characteristic of an animal because as we review each animal periodically while reading the book I see that my kids were able to remember something about our awesome God. There is not a more important adventure in this life and the life to come. Suggestion: Be sure to ask thought probing questions after the more difficult concepts to be sure your kids are getting the connection between God's creation and the Biblical concept. Don't want them to miss it.

Sally Sharik

...a delightful book of 27 short stories describing the habits of a variety of rain forest animals followed by a simple application to the Christian life and a scripture verse... beautifully illustrated.

CLC Book Reviews

A great book, it's full of lots of short stories, almost like Jesus' parables but related to the Amazon and the animals there. A definite recommendation for any Christian kid's bookshelf.
