Powers in Encounter With Power

Spiritual Warfare in Pagan Cultures

Michael Fape

RELEASE DATE 20 JULY 2003

RELATED TITLES

AUTHOR

Anglican minister at University of Ibadan, Nigeria with degrees from Yale, Aberdeen, and Ibadan Universities.

ENDORSEMENTS

"He shows that the message that Christ is supreme over the world of darkness is particularly significant for believers anywhere where they are threatened by the forces of Satanism and magic. This book is a powerful encouragement to Christians not to lose confidence in Christ in their war against the forces of evil."

I. Howard Marshall
(1934-2015) Emeritus Professor of New Testament, University of Aberdeen

"A very thorough treatment of this important subject... the decisive overthrow of the powers of darkness by Christ at the cross."

John Stott
(1921-2011), Rector Emeritus, All Souls Church, Langham Place, London

"Michael Fape brings together an awareness of western critical exegesis and familiarity with African critical realities. The result is African experience of the world of spiritual powers shedding light on somewhat neglected areas of biblical teaching, and simultaneously biblical teaching speaking sharply to elements of African culture. In the process we are enriched by learning from both."

Chris Wright
Langham Partnership and author of 'The Mission of God's People'

TECHNICAL DETAILS

LARGE TRADE PAPERBACK
192 Pages

ISBN 9781857928730
BISAC REL099000
PRICE £10.99 $17.99