AUTHOR

Philip S. Ross is a theological editor who studied in Wales. He worked extensively on the well-received Christian Heritage editions of The Marrow of Modern Divinity and subtitled seven John Owen works. Philip lives near Loch Lomond in Scotland with his wife and three children.

ENDORSEMENTS

"Sunday School teachers would greatly value giving the book to children from unbelieving families who show spiritual concern, helping them to draw near to the Lord daily."

Jill Masters, Tabernacle Bookshop

My First Book of Bible Prayers helps 'children of all ages' to take the first steps towards the Heavenly Father. Give your children this outstanding little book, and use it with them. It might well be one of the most important things you could ever do as a parent."

Sinclair B. Ferguson
Chancellor's Professor of Systematic Theology, Reformed Theological Seminary

"Learning to pray the text of Scripture and to apply its truth to our lives is vital for our spiritual growth. This book by Philip Ross enables children to do both. I can't recommend this wonderful tool more highly."

C J Mahaney
Senior Pastor, Sovereign Grace Church of Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky

"We have best understood the Bible when we turn it into prayer. That is what Philip Ross does for children in My First Book of Bible Prayers. He takes brief texts of Scripture and turns them into simple, and yet profound prayers that children can readily use. This little booklet will open the heavens for many at a young age. I wish this rich spiritual resource had been available to me twenty years ago!"

Douglas F. Kelly
Professor of Theology Emeritus, Reformed Theological Seminary, Charlotte, North Carolina
