DESCRIPTION

When we properly worship Jesus Christ in our hearts, we will begin to have the words to tell our generation about him. The Apostle Peter tells us as Christians that our purpose is to 'proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light' (1 Peter 2:9). The term 'apologetics' is just a fancy way of describing our privilege to proclaim the excellencies of our God.

One of the ways of doing that is simply by answering questions – about you, me and God. William Edgar takes key questions often asked and gives us the basics to respond graciously and adequately to them.
