DESCRIPTION

Charles Haddon Spurgeon faithfully served the Metropolitan Tabernacle from 1854 to his death in 1892. Undergirding everything else was this central responsibility: Spurgeon was the pastor of a church. What was Spurgeon's ecclesiology and how did it affect how he ordered and led his local church? Chang examines Spurgeon's Reformed ecclesiology and Baptist polity and looks at how they were shaped by his militant church outlook.

- How Spurgeon's ecclesiology affected his ministry
- Reformed ecclesiology and Baptist polity
- First book in Spurgeon's Legacy series

AUTHOR

Geoffrey Chang (Ph.D., Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary) serves as an Assistant Professor of Historical Theology and the Curator of the Spurgeon Library at Midwestern Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri. He is also an elder at Wornall Road Baptist Church. He is married to Stephanie, and they have three kids.

ENDORSEMENTS

... helpfully weaves the themes of baptistic ecclesiology and reformed tradition together as a seamless robe. We are exposed to the healthy zeal of Spurgeon for each member of God's church army to wield the particular spiritual weapon granted by grace for the advance of the gospel in this fallen world.

Tom Nettles
Senior Professor of Historical Theology, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky

Rare is the volume that gives us new information on Spurgeon. This is just such a rare volume. Enjoy and be edified.

Mark Dever
