Christ and the Culture Wars

Speaking for Jesus in a World of Identity Politics

Ben Chang

RELEASE DATE 16 MAY 2023

RELATED TITLES

DESCRIPTION

In our modern world the gospel of Jesus is seen by many less as good news for all humanity, and more as the bigoted edicts of a bygone era. Benjamin Chang explores the stories of the revolution, tracing the trajectories of four of the biggest social justice movements – feminism, racial justice, gay pride and the trans movement – before looking at the ways Christians usually engage with these arenas of cultural conflict (mirror, argue, ignore) and identifying a better way forward.

MARKETING POINTS

Addresses the top 'woke' topics

Better ways for Christians to tackle identity politics

Opportunities for the gospel

AUTHOR

Ben Chang is a speaker and writer, as well as working full–time in the health sector. He speaks regularly at conferences, universities and churches on a range of issues including medical ethics, mental health, identity politics and cultural engagement. He blogs at www.benchangblog.com.

ENDORSEMENTS

Ben has produced a bold, insightful and supremely practical primer that will be read by young people's and youth group leaders, students, pastors and evangelists – indeed, anybody – with a heart to bring the light of Christ to a darkening age.

Glynn Harrison
Retired Psychiatrist, Former Professor of Psychiatry and author, 'A Better Story: God, Sex and Human Flourishing'

... will greatly help us fulfil the Great Commission to our generation.

Rico Tice
Evangelist; Co–founder of Christianity Explored Ministries

It is so important in our generation to see those around us not as the enemy, but as our mission. Every pastor and thoughtful Christian will be helped by this book.

Grant Retief
Rector, Christ Church Stellenbosch, South Africa

A must–read for any Christian who not only wants to better understand the issues but also wants to know how to respond in a constructive and Christ–like manner.

Martin Salter
Lead Pastor, Grace Community Church, Bedford, UK and Author, 'So Loved: 26 Words That Can Change Your Life'

TECHNICAL DETAILS

LARGE TRADE PAPERBACK
232 Pages

ISBN 9781527109766
BISAC REL012110
PRICE £11.99 $15.99