AUTHOR

Jo Boddam-Whetham lives near Carlisle with her husband Tudor and her three children. Before becoming a mum she worked as a youth and children?s worker in various churches, and learnt loads about the Bible on the Cornhill Training Course. Jo has always loved writing ? particularly to help others learn more about Jesus from His Word.

ENDORSEMENTS

Clear and compelling, down-to-earth and practical, this is an engaging guide to getting to know God better through regular prayer and Bible reading. Full of helpful hints and teaching, I warmly commend it as a first class starter.

David Jackman
Past President, The Proclamation Trust, London

The best book to read is the Bible! The trouble is it can often be hard to get into. Input Output is a brilliant little book that will help you get stuck into reading the Bible for yourself. Jo writes in a really easy to read, engaging way that will get you excited about the Bible and help you know how best to read it regularly. So dig deep, read it and let it transform your Bible reading habits!
