How to Speak At Special Events

David Cook

RELEASE DATE 20 NOVEMBER 2009

RELATED TITLES

DESCRIPTION

Christians use words because God uses words. He is interested in verbal and written communication. He communicates ideas about himself primarily to us in his written word, the Bible. So if you are faced with an event or occasion when public speaking is needed you may find yourself in need of a helping hand. How to speak at special events can help – because it is written by experts in their field. But before you can prepare an effective talk, you have to prepare yourself and your material. It's not just a case of throwing some jokes and Bible stories together and hoping. How to speak at special events will guide you step–by–step along the way.

AUTHOR

David has recently retired from his role as Principal and Director of the School of Preaching at Sydney Missionary and Bible College (SMBC). He is now involved in an itinerant preaching and teaching ministry; He is a Presbyterian minister and a graduate of SMBC and Moore Theological College. Prior to formal studies and pastoral ministry David worked in the Economic Research Department of the Reserve Bank. He has spoken at a number of Christian Conventions including Keswick. David is married to Maxine, and they have five adult children and eight grandchildren.

ENDORSEMENTS

TECHNICAL DETAILS

LARGE TRADE PAPERBACK
192 Pages

ISBN 9781845502775
BISAC REL080000
PRICE £8.99 $14.99