AUTHOR

Dr Alec Motyer (1924-2016) was a well-known Bible expositor and from an early age had a love for studying God's Word. He was principal of Trinity College, Bristol and wrote many widely appreciated commentaries and other books.

ENDORSEMENTS

"Nowadays the subject of death is not one for polite conversation. In my youth older folk in my family could often be overheard asking each other, 'Where would you like to be buried?' But even then the more important unasked query was, 'Where d'you think you'll go when you die?' This is the vital question that confronts us all, and in this book Alec Motyer provides an excellent guide to finding the answer."

Owen Thomas, Churchman Magazine

"A most readable book and is accessible even to those who may not be habitual readers . . . This is a book to read and re-read. It is worth its weight in gold . . . a must for every library!"
