AUTHOR

Formerly an editor of children's books and a youth worker at St Paul's and St George's, Edinburgh, Hazel is now married and lives in Bradford, UK.

ENDORSEMENTS

'These little colouring books are great. Sarah Womersley is known for her comical, cutesy drawings of typical family life, of skinny children with bemused smiles, button noses, knock knees and baggy ankle socks.
Each page contains a different scene to illustrate a different Bible verse . . .
The illustrations are surrounded with bold lines and plenty of space so would be suitable for young or even older children. The pictures are interesting and busy, so there is much to capture the imagination and to discuss, sometimes bordering more on the cartoon . . . these books would be ideal for Sunday School, birthday presents, or wet weekend fillers. There are 14 pictures in each book.'
