Isobel Kuhn: Lights in Lisuland

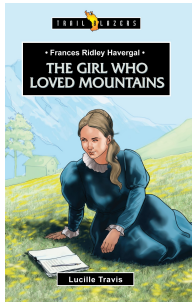

Irene Howat

RELEASE DATE 20 NOVEMBER 2015

RELATED TITLES

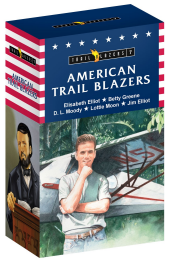

9781781915226
£5.99 $8.99

9781527105294
£5.99 $8.99

9781527105232
£24.99 $39.99

DESCRIPTION

Discover what brought this questioning, antagonistic teenager from doubts to faith in Christ. Find out how she affected the lives of countless people on the mission field of China and Thailand.

This stirring and challenging story of faith is a role model to young people everywhere.

AUTHOR

Irene Howat is an award–winning author and poet who lives in Scotland.

ENDORSEMENTS

This book tells of the power of prayer in their lives and of the many sacrifices of creature comforts they endured joyfully and without complaint. It details fascinating descriptions of ship travel to and from China and the Philippines. It could be read profitably by an adult, a student, or read aloud to an entire family. School-aged children would find it an appropriate selection for a book report, too.

Reformation and Revival magazine

Try another Trailblazer:
No Mountain too High - Gladys Aylward by Myrna Grant. Gladys Aylward was another trailblazing Christian who changed the lives of the people around her. She was also a missionary in the Far East. Both Gladys and Isobel are good role models and heroines that girls can believe in.

Catherine MacKenzie
Author and CF4K Editor

TECHNICAL DETAILS

POCKET PAPERBACK
160 Pages
Reading Age: 9–14

ISBN 9781857926101
BISAC JNF049180
PRICE £5.99 $8.99